Shoe Service of a High Order

In buying shoes satisfaction depends upon a great many things. A great deal is up to the shoes and the store that sells them.

We buy some of the best shoes that are made--then see to it that you get a last that's not only becoming, but comfortable.

We want you to co-operate with us in this. Foot troubles are serious ailments; they affect your health.

Get shoes big enough, broad enough. That's the way we like to fit them. Then you'll enjoy comfort as well as good style.

Prices range - $3.00 to $8.50

CLOTHING and SHOE STORE - MEDINA, O.

NORTHEAST MEDINA CO. BRUNSWICK

G. L. Brenner left here three weeks ago Tuesday for New York and set sail the last of the week for France in Y. M. C. A. work.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamont of Cleveland were at George Coleman's Sunday and Dorothy Coleman returned home with them for a week's visit.

A Sunday school rally is billed for

Nov. 26 and 27 here at the Church of Christ, to be followed with a two weeks meeting. We are in hopes the flu will be over by that time.

Wayne Cadnum, rural route carrier No. 2, rides in a new mail wagon. Our morning mail comes earlier now which is more convenient.

Fred McKee and wife of Hinkley spent Sunday here at Melvin Case's. Mrs. Brander and daughter Dorothy of Cleveland visited over Sunday at Will Fordham's.

Mrs. Lucy Wright Graham of North

Hampton spent a few days here at James Fordham's.

Edith Gardner entered Lakewood hospital last Friday to take a nurse's training course. She was at home a few hours Monday afternoon.

Henry Lautsburry and family of Lagrange spent Sunday here at C. G. Gibbs'. They had recovered from a siege of the flu.

Elsie Gall was home from Cleveland Sunday and her sister, Gertrude, returned with her to the city.

Two weeks ago I mentioned the death of the son of Mr. and Mrs. Balog, who bought the Harbert farm. It was a mistake at that time, as he lingered until last Saturday, when he died at St. John's hospital.

Herman Johnson was home from Elyria from Saturday night until Tuesday forenoon, giving him a chance to vote.

Mrs. Chf. Hadlock and children of Cleveland secured furnished rooms in Elyria, to be near her husband, who is working there at government work.

A. D. Aylard and wife, Mrs. Henry and Winnifred and Birdie Breynton of Medina, took supper and spent last Thursday evening at Dennis Johnson's.

E. C. Miner and wife spent Sunday at Val Rickert's at Remson Corners. Helen Miner was home from Cleveland Saturday afternoon.

Our township will have about 20 Christmas boxes to send to soldier boys in France.

Ernest Barry and family have moved from Medina into the little house on Ralph Strong's farm.

Ernest Wilkey and family attended the funeral on Sunday of his brother Will's wife at Olmstead Falls. A daughter died the week before, the mother gave birth to a baby that died, and then the mother died. It leaves Mr. Wilkey with two small boys.

We noticed the death of Theodore I. Kerns in Cleveland last week. He had bought the Strong farm, the first farm over the line in Strongsville on the east side, and he had changed the stone house into a home like in a city, he repaired the barns and out buildings and painted all up so it was a fine looking place. He uprooted a peach orchard and plowed the ground. It is thought his brother-in-law, Mr. Keyser, may occupy the place with Mrs. Kerns.

C. Stephenson received a letter from their son, Lieut. Wilson, that he and his wife have both been quite sick with malaria-typhoid fever, where he is stationed at Hayti.

Perkins & Ridker have purchased a cooler and scales for a meat market in their store.

With the exception of two who were sick and one who did not come and about forty voters in camp, our entire vote was cast this year.

Our churches will be open for services next Sunday morning. A. C. Maple will preach at the Church of Christ.

The Odd Fellows lodge room will be open Saturday evening.

HINCKLEY

Raymond and Roy Charlton are much better from influenza. Mrs. Lizzie Ingersoll, who has been caring for them, is down with it now. Their mother, Mrs. Ella Charlton, is in Alabama helping care for their brother, Wilbur, who is very sick with pneumonia in camp.

Fred McKee bought the school property north of town, which was sold at auction last Saturday.

The entire town was saddened last Wednesday to hear of the sudden death of Kenneth Gouch, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Gouch. He was taken with influenza which developed rapidly into pneumonia. He was buried at the Ridge cemetery on Saturday, Oct. 26. Kenneth was a bright little boy and was well liked by all who knew him. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gouch are very sick at this time.

The culvert near L. B. West's on the River Road gave out recently and a new one is now being built.

H. P. Riley sold a load of baled hay to Cleveland parties recently that weighed over seven tons.

Hinkley Grange store has a new Ford truck.

Marian Ulmer spent Sunday at home.

Those on the sick list last week are all on the gain.

The grip with resulting pneumonia has claimed a shining mark in Mrs. Geo. F. Metzger, who died at her home here Thursday morning at 5 o'clock.

The death of no young woman in this place could have caused more genuine regret than that of Mrs. Metzger and truly a gloom has been spread over the entire community. She contracted a cold when caring for her husband, who came home sick a week ago Thursday night from work and not being of a very strong constitution, she soon was seriously ill with pneumonia and with leakage of the heart and catarrh, which she was unable to withstand.

Ola Cordella Smith was born Sept. 17, 1894, at Pana, Ill., and died at Abbeville, Oct. 31, 1918. She was one of seven children born to Andrew and Barbara Smith. Her father, two sisters, Elizabeth and Lula, two little brothers, Henry and Andrew, preceded her to the great beyond. She was married Oct. 8, 1912, to Geo. F. Metzger, and to this union two little daughters, Norma Elizabeth, aged 5, and little Georgiana June, aged 3, are left to mourn the loss of a loving and devoted mother. Mr. and Mrs. Metzger moved just one year ago to the day of her death from Grandin, N. D., to the Wm. Gunkelman farm, thinking a change of climate would benefit the deceased. She had better health soon after she came to Ohio and had spent a pleasant and happy year here. Mrs. Metzger was of cheerful disposition and made a host of friends in the short year of her stay and was ever cheerful until the end. She is survived by her husband, Geo. Metzger, two daughters, and her mother, Mrs. Barbara Smith, and two sisters, Mae Belle and Kathryn Smith.

The community sympathizes with the family in their hour of sorrow. The remains were taken to Pana, Ill., for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Kemp were called to the home of her parents on account of the serious illness of her father with pneumonia.

VALLEY CITY

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Faught went to Kent to spend a few days.
